

<The 3rd UI-NRH-UOEH Joint Interesting Occupational Medicine Regular Forum >

On March 26, the 3rd UI-NRH-UOEH Joint Interesting Occupational Medicine Regular Forum was held by 3 institutions, University of Indonesia (UI), Nopparat Rajathanee Hospital (NRH), Thailand and UOEH, Japan which have signed MOU.

The purpose of this forum is to provide occupational medicine residents from each institute with an opportunity to present and discuss their work in English and to understand each other's occupational medicine legal systems and practices in the three countries.

The forum consists of presentations by occupational medicine residents from the host country and discussions among occupational medicine residents from the 3 institutions. The 3rd session was hosted by UOEH, and 2 occupational medicine residents (Dr. Ayaka Yamamoto, Dept. of Occupational Health Practice and Management, and Dr. Yasuaki Yoshimoto, Dept. of Work Systems and Health) gave presentations on the topic of "Mental Health Programs in Japanese Companies: Stress Checks", followed by a lively discussion among the residents. The forum was again attended by approximately 100 participants from the 3 institutions, and it was very meaningful event.
