On Thursday, January 22, the 12th UI-NRH-UOEH-SGH Joint Interesting Occupational Medicine Regular Forum was held online, jointly organized by four institutions, University of Indonesia (UI), Nopparat Rajathanee Hospital (NRH), Thailand, Singapore General Hospital/National University of Singapore (SGH) and UOEH.

The forum aims to promote mutual understanding of legal systems and medical practices on occupational health among the participating countries. Since September 2022, it has been held once every three months. In each forum, residents of occupational medicine of the host country deliver presentations, and online participants join discussions afterwards.

As the host for this 12th forum, UOEH began the proceeding with opening remarks from Prof. Tomohiro Ishimaru (Dept. of Medical Humanities, Vice Director of the International Center). Dr. Kazuya Yamashiro (Dept. of Public Health) and Dr. Akihito Kamano (Dept. of Environmental Epidemiology), both residents in Occupational Medicine, presented on the topic of “Overwork and Karoshi in Japan”. Approximately 95 participants attended the forum online, and an active and engaging discussion took place following the presentation.
